If there is a magic bullet to solve problems in the world, it is girl's education:

→Studies show that girls education could: ① End Poverty ② Increase GDP ③ Bring Equity ④ Improve Health & Education outcomes ⑤ Stop child marriage ⑥ End child labour.

Rtn Alokanda spoke about her social reforms through dance therapy in West Bengal Correctional Homes; an initiative to reform, realign and rehabilitate convicts in the state correctional homes, since 2007. For the same purpose in 2010 she conceptualized and formed 'Touch World', a non-profit seeking organization for reform and rehabilitation of prisoners and their families. The organization is also providing care and education to the children of the inmates of the Alipore Women's Correctional Home. Recently she has started training juvenile offenders in dance therapy for realigning of their lives. She is also using dance as a therapy for specially-abled children and for Parkinson's disease patients and it is showing a marked effect. She has started two new initiatives in 2019, dance therapy for the transgender community and for the Acid Attack Survivors of West Bengal.
